IRS Extends Tax Deadlines for Individuals, Trusts, Estates, and Corporations

The IRS has extended more tax deadlines for individuals, estates, corporations and others.

The extension includes a variety of tax form filings and payment obligations that are due between April 1, 2020 and July 15, 2020 including estimated tax payments due June 15, and the deadline to claim refunds from 2016.

The Notice also suspends associated interest, additions to tax, and penalties for late filing or late payment until July 15, 2020.

On March 18, 2020 IRS issued Notice 2020-17 which postponed the due date for certain Federal income tax payments from April 15, 2020 until July 15, 2020 due to the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) emergency.

On March 20, 2020 the IRS issued Notice 2020-18 which also postponed until July 15, 2020 the filing date for 2019 federal income tax returns and 2020 federal estimated income tax payments that would otherwise be due on April 15, 2020.

On March 27, 2020 the IRS issued Notice 2020-20 which extended recent income tax filing and payment relief to those taxpayers who have gift tax or GST tax obligations otherwise due by April 15 to July 15, 2020.

That Notice also announced that this 3-month period would be disregarded for purposes of calculating interest and penalties.

(really, you're still reading this?)
- 1120-W, Estimated Tax for Corporations.

This relief is automatic.

Taxpayers do not have to call the IRS or file any extension forms, or send letters or other documents to receive this relief.

The relief provided in the Notice includes extending the time for filing all petitions with the Tax Court, or for review of a decision rendered by the Tax Court, filing a claim for credit or refund of any tax, and bringing suit upon a claim for credit or refund of any tax.

However the Notice does not provide relief for the time period for filing a petition with the Tax Court or for filing a claim or bringing a suit for credit or refund if that period expired before April 1, 2020.

In the Notice the IRS has also provided additional time for the IRS to perform certain time-sensitive actions during this period and the application date to participate in the Annual Filing Season Program.

The Notice also suspends associated interest, additions to tax, and penalties for late filing or late payment until July 15, 2020.
