From the desk of Peter S. Muffoletto, C.P.A.

New IRS guidance on 529 plan
Recontributions, Rollovers and Qualified Expenses

The Internal Revenue Service has issued guidance regarding the following aspects of Internal Revenue Code Section (IRC) 529 relating to Qualified Tuition Programs (529 plans).

a. Recontribution of refunded qualified higher education expenses (QHEEs);
b. Rollover from a 529 plan to an ABLE account; and

a. Elementary and secondary education tuition expenses as QHEEs.

Under IRC 529 a State or its agency or instrumentality may establish or maintain a program that permits a person to prepay or contribute to an account for a designated beneficiary’s QHEEs.

In addition an eligible educational institution may establish or maintain a program that permits a person to prepay a designated beneficiary's QHEEs.

These programs are collectively referred to as 529 plans.

IRC 529(c)(3) provides that distributions (including any attributable earnings) from a 529 plan are not included in gross income if such distributions do not exceed the designated beneficiary's QHEEs.

To the extent distributions exceed the designated beneficiary's QHEEs a portion of the distribution is included in gross income.

A 10% additional tax generally applies to amounts subject to tax under this rule.

IRC 529(e)(3)(A) defines QHEEs to include tuition, fees, books, supplies, and equipment required for the enrollment or attendance of a designated beneficiary at an eligible educational institution.

QHEEs also include reasonable costs for room and board for eligible students, generally, those who are enrolled at least half-time.

The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) expanded the definition of QHEEs to include tuition in connection with the designated beneficiary's enrollment or attendance at an elementary or secondary public, private, or religious school.
The TCJA also amended the IRC to limit the total amount of these tuition distributions for each designated beneficiary to $10,000 per year from all 529 plans of the designated beneficiary.

Both amendments apply to distributions made after December 31, 2017.

Tax-free rollovers of a distribution from a 529 plan made within 60 days of the distribution to another 529 plan for the benefit of either the same designated beneficiary or another designated beneficiary who is a member of the family of the original designated beneficiary.

There is a catch however in that the distributing 529 plan must provide a breakdown of the earnings portion of the rollover amount to the recipient 529 plan and, until the recipient 529 plan receives appropriate documentation showing the earnings portion, the entire rollover amount is treated as earnings.

This applies as well in relationship to a direct transfer (i.e., a trustee-to-trustee transfer) from a 529 plan to another 529 plan.

Where plan funds are distributed for a beneficiary's QHEEs but some portion of those expenses is refunded to the beneficiary by the eligible educational institution can be excluded from being taxable. This could occur if the beneficiary were to drop a class mid-semester.

Code Sec. 529(c)(3)(D) provides that the portion of such a distribution refunded to an individual who is the beneficiary of a 529 plan by an eligible educational institution is not subject to income tax to the extent that the refund:

a. If the amount is recontributed to a 529 plan of which that individual is the beneficiary not later than 60 days after the date of such refund; and
b. Does not exceed the refunded amount.

_________________________

We here at Muffoletto & Company believe that the more informed you are in regards to the rules and regulations that affect you the more we can be of service.

Should you have questions relating to any tax or financial matters call at (818) 346-2160,
or you can visit us on the web at www.petemcpa.com!

Providing individuals, small businesses, corporations, partnerships, professionals, and other business entities with the necessary guidance and answers for a complex world.
IMPORTANT NOTICE

The contents of this email and any attachments to it may contain privileged and confidential information from Muffoletto & Company.

This information is only for the viewing or use of the intended recipient. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or use of, or the taking of any action in reliance upon, the information contained in this e-mail, or any of the attachments to this e-mail, is strictly prohibited and that this e-mail and all of the attachments to this e-mail, if any, must be immediately returned to Muffoletto & Company or destroyed and, in either case, this e-mail and all attachments to this e-mail must be immediately deleted from your computer without making any copies hereof.

If you have received this e-mail in error, please notify Muffoletto & Company by e-mail immediately.

To ensure compliance with Treasury Department regulations, we wish to inform you that, unless expressly stated otherwise in this communication (including any attachments) any tax advice that may be contained in this communication is not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used, for the purpose of (i) avoiding tax-related penalties under the Internal Revenue Code or applicable state or local tax law provisions or (ii) promoting, marketing or recommending to another party any tax-related matters addressed herein.

If you prefer not to remain on our email lists, please let us know. We will remove you as soon as you notify us.

You may do so by emailing us at pete@petemcpa.com